DELIGHTS ON TRIP GIVEN

Fliers Are Interviewed At New York

MITCHELL FIELD, NEW YORK

(By Associated Press) — With a plaudits of New York

ing in their ears, Lieutenant well H. Smith and three of his companions in the army's round-world flight, gave a series of intimate sidelights on their heroic achievement before the fliers landed on the last lap of their journey.

Out of the mass of details, given with a patent modesty, there is light for the first time on one of the fliers, Lieutenant Smith, has continued with the edition despite a painful injury.

Lieutenant Smith, the first commander, told the story of the flight. He recounted in Lieutenant Leigh Wade's when it made its forced detour into the sea, after leaving the Orkney Islands.

was taken on board the U. S. ship, and while standing on the bridge of the ship, he was charged from railing.

It was used to ground the engine of the craft's radio. The engine caused an electric spark which was severely burned.

Lieutenant Ogden is still suffering from the injury and on here yesterday was ordered to a post hospital where his leg was massaged. Although the wound is painful, post doctors said he could be able to continue the flight.

was during the height of the flight in their honor last night. Lieutenants Smith, Leigh, Arnold and Eric Nelson read the queries of the newsmen. They spoke modestly of their achievement, taking little credit to themselves, but eager to be tribute on his companions' venture.

CONDITION — Lieutenant Smith said that he and his companions "a bit tired" they were in condition and despite the ups of their journey had not been.

hardest stretch of their flight, Lieutenant Smith said, was off the coast of Greenland. The expedition was made by only two forced landings made by Lieutenant at sea after having left all in the Orkney Islands, the other at Merpoint, because of the fog. In this flight he paid a tribute to American navy and to the guard.

the navy treated us excellent as well as if we had been naval aviators. I also learned that we were a great coast guard.

I know much about them, but I certainly do now," suppose, Lieutenant, when a finished this flight all of it take a good long rest?" one suggested.

deed I am," Smith exclaimed enthusiastically. "I think we'll take a leave of absence, part I'm going where are the doctors and nothing to worry about. And say, I see any clocks where I stop every one of them," and the hundreds of telegrams of congratulations that came from governors, mayors, ranking army and navy and public men throughout the world. A message which was appealed to them came last night. It read "Congratulations on your return."

STREET REPAIR DESIRED

City To Improve Main-st From Kibby-st to B. & O.

Opening of a thru route of improved travel from the city onto the Dixie highway to cities south of Lima was advocated Monday night with the presentation of a resolution seeking the improvement of S. Main-st from Kibby-st south to the B. & O. railway.

Completion of this project will provide an avenue thru the south portion of the city, joining with the improved strip from Ottawa river to Kibby-st and the improvement from the B. & O. to Fourth-st, which is now underway.

Completion of Main-st pavement from the Pennsylvania tracks to the Ottawa river, which joins the brick and asphaltic construction south of the river, gives an improved route to Kibby-st, where the pavement is rough and badly in need of repair.

Efforts were made earlier in the year for the improvement of the Kibby-st-B. & O. railroad strip along with the portion south of the B. & O. tracks so that the entire job could be finished this year, but sufficient signatures on a petition could not be obtained and the project was delayed until after the award of the B. & O. Fourth-st contract and announcement by the city that no more contracts would be let this year.

LAKE STEAMER IS BURNED

Large Passenger Boat Destroyed at Holland, Mich.

HOLLAND, Mich. — (By Associated Press) — The steamship South American, one of the finest passenger boats on the Great Lakes, virtually was destroyed by a fire which broke out early this morning while the boat was in drydock for the winter here.

The crew of 16 negroes, which has been cleaning the boat since it came into dock here five days ago, escaped.

The cause of the fire, which started amidship near the engine room, was undetermined. The boat, an oil burner had 560 gallons of fuel oil stored near where the fire started, and explosions of oil tore out large portions of the hull and endangered the lives of firemen fighting the blaze.

Many summer cottages along the shore near the burning boat were ignited by embers blown by a stiff wind but all were extinguished without serious damage. A warehouse, under construction near the drydock, however, caught fire, and was badly damaged, as was the drydock which had recently been completed at a cost of $30,000.

The total loss had not been estimated early today. The value of the boat was placed at $500,000. It had been running for several summers between Buffalo and Chicago.

MASSACHUSETTS VOTERS PICKING CHOICE TODAY

BOSTON — Massachusetts voters went to the polls today to choose Republican and Democratic candidates for state and national offices in November. It was expected that a heavy Republican vote would be polled. There were few contests in the Democratic primaries.

For the Republican nomination for United States senator there were three candidates, Speaker Frederick H. Gillett, of the national house of representatives, Congressman Frederick W. Dalinger, and Louis A. Coolidge, treasurer of the United Shoe Machinery Corporation. Opposing each other for the Republican gubernatorial nomination were Lieutenant Governor Alvan T. Fuller and State Treasurer James Jackson.

Autos In The Night

Another whisky cargo was seized by Lima police Sunday. Two men are held on charges of possession and transportation. They were caught because their automobile broke down and they chose the wrong man to ask for assistance.

We don't know where they got the whisky. Probably in Canada for that is where it was supposed to have been made. If they did, they had negotiated a big part of their return trip to the southwestern part of the state. They failed only to get thru because of the fallibility of motor vehicles.

This one car was captured. We wonder how many go thru without being molested. It would be interesting to know what percentage of automobiles carry booze either in bottles or inside drivers. No one can tell for there are too many of them on the highways to be searched even occasionally.

It is rare that a whisky machine is picked up in the vicinity of Lima. Many must pass thru on the various roads, carrying the contraband to thirsty throats in various parts of the country.

When will it end? Answer that and we will be able to tell you when the world will end. As long as there is booze, it will be drunk. There may be a slackening in the traffic, but man-made laws and man-made prisons will never stop it.

As it appears today, only the unfortunate bootlegger and the one who does not happen to have a pull get caught occasionally. Some never do, and the brains behind the big syndicates that laugh at our laws and reap a rich harvest are never before the courts.

Protect The Children!

Some 7,000 children started to school in Lima yesterday in the public and parochial schools. That means they will make between 20,000 and 30,000 trips across streets each day. The danger is appalling when one thinks of the manner in which some automobile drivers dash about the streets.

There is nothing more precious than our children. They must be protected in every instance and drivers of machines can do much to help along this line. A little care in driving will be appreciated by parents of every child in the schools.

We would rather be late for everything the rest of our lives than to have the terrible memory of killing one of these little tots. But in most cases, autoists who rush like mad thru the streets are in no hurry to get anywhere and have nothing to do after they get where they are going. They are the ones who endanger school children most.

Streets near school buildings are well marked so there can be no excuse for anyone to approach a building without knowing it. Children are likely to dart out at any intersection. They don't realize the danger. Drivers do. They must be held responsible.

Arkansas Wins

Arkansas furnished better physical specimens than any other state, reports the War Department, reviewing the 1923 civilian military training camps. Kansas and Arizona close behind.

The east wears tortoise-rim specs and gradually inclines toward effeminacy. The virile west, a younger civilization, is a getter. There's as much difference between the people east and west of the Mississippi as at the two sides of the Rhine.

Born To Miss Joy

You have to feel a bit sorry for the Prince of Wales. He seems to be a good fellow with an inclination to enjoy himself in a human way, and observe how he is pestered. Upon leaving home he has to observe the royal custom of traveling incognito—as Lord Rennet, or something equally as good and yet, before he boards his boat, the world knows all about his incognito.

He finds his steamer packed with folks who have fought to get passage so that they may say "Oh yes, indeed! I came over with the Prince of Wales," and who riot for places from which to stare at him.

If he dances, he is surrounded by a ring of brazen starers and is bound to feel that every female present has marriage or other social designs on him.

He is entertained and slobbered over in some big American cities until he's tired and sick, mentally and, perhaps physically. Then he goes to the wilds of Canada, "for a good time," with promise to be able to "rough it." And what will he get there?

Will he hang his necktie and white shirt on a bush and make him a bed of pine boughs? Will he put up a tent and fry his own flap-jacks and bacon? Will he carry a canoe over a portage and paddle it thru the lily pads of the silvery lake?

Will he tramp out his own crawfish bait from the mud, and smoke a cob pipe? Will he go out among the great pines, alone, as the sun sinks below the mountains, to see, hear and feel nature going to bed?

Will he chop and carry wood for the campfire and sit in its glow to smoke, to think and to praise God for the rhythm of wavelets upon beach pebbles, the hymn of night breezes in the dark forest, the twittering of young birds being put to sleep, the wonder of the stars, and the blessed freedom of a man who is being just himself?

Will he get the relief, the joy of feeling "Here are just God and His great works, and myself?"

Alas! It cannot be. His title is too precious. None of the enjoyable roughness of the wilds for him. His bacon will be served tied with ribbons, his crawfish will be served bathed and polished, his spotless clothes will be served by a professional valet from a palace, and a crowd of flunkies will spoil all the loneliness and naturalness of it.

Poor Prince! None of the splendid wilderness of the great outdoors for him.

Diamonds

Diamonds occasionally are found in glacial drift in our country. One as big as 17 karats was discovered in gravel while digging a well in Wisconsin.

These diamonds were brought down from somewhere in Canada, carried along in gravel accompanying glaciers of long ago. Geologists now are tracing the course of these glaciers. They expect to find the mother diamond mines up north.

LIMA NEWS HEALTH SERVICE

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

DOWN, FUZZ, HAIR AND BEARD

Every day there are a bunch of queries similar to this one.

I am a girl 15 years old and have quite a bit of hair on my face, especially around my mouth and chin. What can I do to remove it? It looks terrible like a regular mustache and is quite noticeable. Is it safe to use... (one of the numerous cosmetic nostrums which purport to "destroy" superfluous hair)?

It seems that nearly every girl or young woman has to pass thru the foolish stage, about her complexion. This is a comparatively minor matter, yet I think it is a very good indication of the deplorable neglect of the health education of our children in our schools generally. What sort of education has a woman who takes seriously the ridiculous bunk in the cosmetic propaganda of the day? Obviously none at all, else that business would soon peter out. A minor matter, yet I saw some startling figures the other day—of course one sees such figures every day these days—but I mean some statistics giving the enormous sums spent annually for cosmetics in this country. A woman has a legitimate need for certain simple cosmetics but the great bulk of the money is squandered on hokum, pure and simple, and much of it is dangerous, too.

The skin of every woman is covered with a fine down, which is practically invisible, unless you look closely for it. This down is on the face of the most beautiful woman. If you begin stimulating it, physically or chemically you may make it grow heavier and more noticeable.

Probably mere excessive rubbing of the skin, excessive massage, excessive application of any kind of complexion grease or "cream" or "beautifier" tends to stimulate the invisible down to heavier growth. Certainly shaving does so and it is likely that a chemical shave is far worse in this respect than an ordinary razor shave. There are seventeen kinds of chemical shaves on the market for the gullible young woman, and many of these depilatories do purport to "destroy" the hair, to "remove it permanently" or to "take it out by the roots," altho in truth, none of them will accomplish any such thing. They "remove" hair by dissolving it, but a safety razor will accomplish all that any such cosmetic preparation can accomplish and with rather less irritation of the skin.

The young girl whose excessive anxiety about complexion leads to the closest scrutiny and the discovery of the down or practically invisible hair about her face, is best advised to leave the down severely alone and to avoid as much as possible any rubbing or other stimulation of the skin of the face. The first shave, be it with razor or with chemical, is just the beginning of endless trouble. If in doubt, let well enough alone. Would you swap a doubt for a beard?

There are of course many cases of abnormal growth of hairs about the face. For these cases, aside from regular shaving by physical or chemical means, there are only two possible remedies which a woman should even consider. One is destruction of the hairs by electrolysis, in the hands of a physician competent to do this surgical work. Another

THE NERVOUS WRECK

by E. J. Rath

1924-25 by NKA Service Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

"Nervous Wreck," an excellent story, is driving Sally from her father's ranch to the point of a gun the day she takes five gallons from a tank.

Then he would look at Sally, his mood softening and the old embarrassment would descend on him like a shroud.

"We'll get out of here all right, Sally. Don't you worry."

"I'm not worrying."

"I mean about—"

"About what, Henry?"

"About afterwards."

Sally had long silences herself. She wished it were all over; that Bob Wells and his posse would hurry up and take themselves off and vanish absolutely out of the picture, and she would be left alone with the wreck.

"Don't you worry," repeated the wreck, suddenly bold. "You don't have to—hey? Don't you know which way to turn the wheels on a curve? Want to upset her again? Want to wreck her?"

"I don't have to what," she asked.

"Oh," he was caught unaware. "Why you don't have to—that's all."

Then the wreck rolled her. The wreck ended to sit in the five. He rolled the thing up to the grade, with Bob Wells and cursing under his tongue and the members of his posse bending themselves humbly at his feet.

the satisfaction? We could just sense—in circles."

"I suppose so," said Sally. "Do you mean me?" he asked sharply.

"Oh, don't let us quarrel again."

"I'm not quarreling. I never quarrel. My nerves may get on edge, but I'm always pleasant. I'm always—"

They were doing something wrong with the wreck. Eventually they got it right again and once more resumed their progress toward the main road. They were not far from it now; almost to the top of the last rise. When the wreck returned to Sally he was nipping his forehead.

"Excuse me," he said, "but they get me all worked up. Once we get to the main road, we're all right. Plain sailing then. We'll be almost at the end of this foolishness."

"Yes," agreed Sally. "I bet you'll be glad."

She bit her lip until it made her wince. He was probably the most impossible person in the world.

"Get you home in no time after we hit the road," he added.

THE TANGLE

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRES-COTT TO RUTH BURKE, CONTINUED

Somebody, Ruth, has talked about the coldness of charity given at a church door, but it is warmth and comfort beside the kiss your husband gives you from a sense of duty.

I received a little peck of con-jugal pretense on my cheek. I could not by any possibility offer my lips to Jack, altho I don't mind telling you, dear, that I was so glad to see that stubborn man that I could have fallen on his neck and hugged him until he was breathless.

I think I should have done this immediately, and then I would have broken down and wept, if that blessed lamb of a baby had not caught sight of me and almost hurled himself out of Sarah's arms.

She put him on the floor, and he was so anxious to reach me that his uncertain little legs doubled up and he fell sprawling and bumped his nose. Of course, he set up a yell that could be heard in the next house.

Jack and I both made a dive to pick him up, and in doing so, our heads came together with a resounding crack. It almost knocked me off my feet. Little Jack cried harder than ever, as he thought something terrible had happened. I picked him up, and Jack had forgotten everything but the physical pain to himself.

I heard an exclamation from mother, and turned to look at him to find the blood running down his face.

"What is the matter?" I exclaimed.

"Nothing," answered Jack. "I've-cept I think I'm blinded. Jackie, go to Sarah for a minute. Mother must take care of daddy, who has hurt himself."

In the meantime mother had brought a wet cloth and we proceeded to wash away the blood. We found that the circle comb with the wreath of flowers that I had been wearing on my bobbed hair had broken and one of the teeth had cut a gash in Jack's face, just at the side of his eye. He seemed to think it had entered the eye itself.

Of course, consternation ruled. Mother sent directly for the doctor. I made Jack lie down upon the sofa and covered his face with a cloth wet in diluted borax acid until the physician should arrive.

"Don't worry, Leslie," Jack said. "It's feeling much better now. Take off the cloth and let me see if I can see."

"I don't think we would better do that, Jack dear, until the doctor comes. I haven't been able to staunch the blood entirely."

"Oh, darling, I never will forgive myself if you have been blinded."

"Don't worry, Leslie. It was nothing you could help. It was just one of those things that happen."

Jack raised his arm and pulled me down to him.

This time it was no peck of con-jugal pretense, but a long, lover-like kiss, into which for the time went much of the soreness of Jack's suspicion and wounded pride.

Mother, with her usual wisdom, had sent the car which brought me back from the party to get the doctor, and he, thinking that dad was worse, came in immediately.

A very quick examination showed that altho painful, Jack's eye and eyesight were intact. Finding this I, who up to this time had been quite calm, quietly fainted away.

And the Wreck Rolls

"Wreck bossed the job. He an arrogant tone, particularly toward the sheriff, and Sally glad. She was glad because the wreck had given the wreck the job to do, and in its person he forgot his embarrassment about other things, at least for the moment.

Wreck was these and confident in commands. Not a finger he lifted himself; he had four working for him. It took united strength to put the wreck on four wheels. Bob wanted to get it over with on the trail again.

But that way," called the wreck sharply. "Want to buckle up for me? You can't push downways."

Wreck listened to this with a air of satisfaction.

Wreck was back in the wrecked road, but Henry Williams was not through with his wreck. He expected that he fill up the gasoline tank, he crank and say goodby, he said it would have to be for quite a distance, per-did the way to the main road, he scowled.

A man her in here, didn't he inquire, "Why can't you get out?"

Wreck, "Didn't know you were in here in the dark."

Wreck, "I was running, run 'em again. Roll her, haven't time."

Well, I have."

Wreck rolled her. The wreck ended to sit in the five. He rolled the thing up to the grade, with Bob Wells and cursing under his tongue and the members of his posse bending themselves humbly at his feet.

Then the wreck rolled the thing up to the grade, with Bob Wells and cursing under his tongue and the members of his posse bending themselves humbly at his feet.

VANCE ON MOUND SHATTERS M'GRAW'S FOND DREAMS

WHILE ROBINS NEST ON PENNANT FLAGPOLE

NEW YORK — Robins nested on the pennant flag pole and twitted from the rafters of the Polo Grounds while John McGraw sat in his dugout and speculated upon the visitation.

Wilbert, the Round Robin, led his band upon the green turf of the field Monday to the roof-raising yells of thousands of Brooklyn fans who had journeyed across the famous bridge to see the second game of the little world's series.

Dizzy Vance, Cock Robin of the round the league fliers, stepped upon the mound and the fastest ball in captivity at the Polo Grounds assembled for a grand stand to death. Robins, Vance, and his crew, Brooklyn's New York Yankees, as a world's series next month, the Bronx spectators at McGraw's battle will not have been entirely devoid of the third.

Vance won his thirteenth consecutive game and his twenty-fifth of the season, but not before the desperate Giants had delivered a strong attack, only after the hitting by DeBerry, Wholly, Brown and Rich had driven McGraw to the dugout.

After a quick thinking and sharp hitting by McGraw, the Yankees had retrieved the balling from the Yankees' situation, caused by his wildness.

DeBerry's home run with Griffith on a double play engineered by Stock which caught Southworth and Groh off the sacks, and an effective protest by Manager Robinson which gave his team a run and brought the Giants back to the field after Brooklyn had been apparently relived, were high spots for an evenly divided crowd which found a gem in every inning.

The Robins won, 7 to 2, and now begin their final effort for the pennant on the home lot, only one half game behind the Giants, and with a one and one half point lead over the Pirates, who, with all other National League clubs, were idle Monday.

YANKS AND GIANTS WIN

The Yankees, fighting grimly to recover the two game lead enjoyed by Washington, won at home 7 to 2, as Joe Bush hit the Red Sox to two hits. Fullerton allowed only four hits until the eighth when Duxan singled and Rich accepted the drama of the occasion and hit his forty-fourth home run for the only score of the game.

Washington retained its advantage, however, with Walter Johnson working easily behind an early lead for an 8 to 4 victory over the Athletics.

AMERICAN POLO TEAM PICKED TO WIN CLASSIC

BY FRANK GETTY.

MEADOWBROOK CLUB, WESTBURY, L. I. — (By United Press) — America's hard riding, hard hitting polo four were overwhelming favorites for the first of the international challenge cup matches with Great Britain today.

Overcast skies that threatened rain shadowed the firm green turf between the towering blue stands from which the Prince of Wales and some 40,000 spectators will witness this classic of international sport at 4 p. m.

Nothing short of a steady downpour will be permitted to interrupt the match however.

Heavily handicapped by the loss of their captain, Luis Lacey, the British four were hopeful of overcoming the odds and springing a surprise, as another outclassed British team did in 1924. But it was a faint hope, in the opinion of sportsmen.

With Watson Webb, the peerless Tommy Hitchcock, Malcolm Stevenson and Captain Devereaux Milburn all in tip top shape and forming a combination which men for men outranks the invaders, American should win this first of three matches for the challenge trophy by a margin of ten goals.

But polo is not won by men alone. There is the matter of the four-footed players, the chocky, fleet, intelligent nicks, in this respect, the British start on even terms. Their mounts are as good as those that will carry the Americans.

THE MATCH
The match this afternoon will be of eight 12-minute chocks, or periods unless an extra one is required to break a tie. Following the international rules there will be referee Carlton Burke and two umpires, Captain Wesley K. White for the United States and Colonel Vernon Knicker for Great Britain. Luis Lacey, who was to have captained the British four, suffered a badly sprained shoulder before coming to this country and hurt it again immediately after arriving. Two days ago, however, he pulled himself into shape to play, only to go down and out with an attack of shingles.

AMERICAN TEAMS
L. Watson Webb, position No. 1; Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., position No. 2; Malcolm Stevenson, position No. 3; Devereaux Milburn, position No. 4.

BRITISH TEAM
Major F. W. Kirkwood, position No. 1; Major G. H. Phipps, position No. 2; Major E. G. Atkinson, position No. 3; Major E. G. Atkinson, position No. 4.

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press) — America and England, with four victories each since 1880, will meet today at Meadowbrook in the first of a series of three polo matches for the possession of the international challenge cup now held by the United States. The second game will be played next Saturday and the third probably September 17.

Apart from the pure sporting interest of the meeting which is generally forecast as a victory for the American big four, the match will attract the most colorful background of any spectacle held during this year of impressive athletic contests.

The Prince of Wales, representative of foreign governments, General Pershing, Attorney General Stimson, Secretaries Hoover, Wallace, Davis and Weeks and leaders in business and social life will be among a crowd of 40,000.

The English team, whose form in practice games during the last few weeks has been mediocre, will be further handicapped by the absence of its star back and captain, Luis Lacey, who, after being kept out of most of the practice sessions with an injured shoulder, was stricken this week with an attack of shingles.

The American quartet has shown tremendous effectiveness in each practice game and will be a favorite in today's contest.

CHICAGO — Two veteran football coaches will again lead their charges in the chase for the Western Conference championship this fall. They are Alton A. Staggs of Chicago and Fielding H. Yost of Michigan. Staggs has been at the Midway School since 1892; Yost at Michigan since 1891.

This will make Staggs thirty-third season as Chicago pilot and Yost's twenty-fourth, a long time to serve one school in the same capacity. Yost has the last season's job turned over much of the day to George Little, his assistant, but the "Hurricane" one's word is still final.

Of the other Big Ten universities, Bob Zuppke, Illinois, and Dr. John W. W. Ohio State, rank next in point of service. Both have been in charge of Western Conference play for years. Staggs, four are the "oldtimers" in the organization.

On Thursday, Northwest coach Bill Spaulding, Minnesota, Jack Ryan, Wisconsin, Bill Graham, Indiana, and Harry H. Lincoln, Purdue, have all won one or more seasons as Big Ten coaches.

Spaulding last fall, in his first year in the Big Ten, turned out a first-class team. The only newcomer this fall in the conference will be Butte, who has taken over the post of Yost by the resignation of Howard H. Brown. Brown's efforts in his new role will be watched with more than the ordinary interest.

SQUARED CIRCLE
ABE HOLDS TITLE
NEW YORK — Abe Goldstein, world's heaviest champion, retained his title when he won a fifteen-round decision last night from Tommy Ryan, McKeenport, Pa. The attendance was only 2,500 and the receipts $5,658.

REXALLET WON
PHILADELPHIA — Jack Rex, Canadian heavyweight, dominating won a ten-round decision over George Godfrey, Philadelphia.

Pros, 'Ams And Sich

There is this difference between Epurard and Carpenter. . . The French horse did not claim he was fouled.

Cincinnati fan who made world series reservation in April had the right idea. . . His choice of clothes was a fat inaccurate, that's all.

SCIENTIFIC JOTTINGS

The man had just dropped from the caves of a three-story dwelling, landing solidly, albeit rather awkwardly, on his skull. "Are you injured, my good man?" inquired Mr. O'Goofy.

Quick as a flash the poor wretch murmured, "I do not wish to deceive you, sir, I am."

Now here's where the kick comes in. . . Clearing his throat with an ordinary kitchen mop and fling the fallen stranger with a humorous eye, Mr. O'Goofy said: "It serves you right, you eaves dropper."

We don't see why Leonard's broken hand should stop the fight with Walker. . . It has been our observation that modern prize-fighters never use their hands anyway.

Deputy is going to wait until he finishes fighting before he gets married. . . This is reversing the usual American custom.

Carpenter kissed an American chorus girl goodnight and he smiled for France. . . But he did not kiss any of his American currency goodnight.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS
Coach — And why don't you want to play football?
Player — Because I don't like to do anything by halves.
(Now, honest, mind, ain't that the Ford's fondness?)

The Prince of Wales has been getting to bed around five o'clock every morning. . . What, not? He never here ain't that it used to be.

For the novelty of the thing we'd like to see the world series held in some city other than New York this fall.

HISTORICAL FACTS
He lies like a veteran.
A veteran what?
A veteran liar.

At any rate, Bill Johnston will go down in football history as the greatest runnerup ever known to the game.

WATCHING THE SCORE BOARD
YESTERDAY'S HERO — Babe Ruth hit his 41st home run with a bang on base and gave the Yankees a 2 to 1 victory over the Red Sox. . . The Sox gave two hits.

Frank Vance, star Brooklyn pitcher, won his thirteenth consecutive game and his twenty-fifth of the season when he beat the Red Sox, 7 to 2. The Robins scored up within a half game of the Giants.

The Cincinnati five Walter Johnson a big early lead and he had no trouble, beating the Athletics, 8 to 1. He and Miller hit homers for the Athletics.

SEVENTEEN ELIMINATED
COLUMBUS, Ohio — Seventeen Columbus players and four visitors were eliminated Monday in the Ohio Tennis Tournament and rain early Tuesday threatened to prevent the completion of today's matches.

Frank Kronauge, Dayton, won from Carl Wirtzwein, Columbus, 6-2, 6-3; Louis Kubler, Cincinnati, eliminated Elliot Stearns, Cleveland, 6-1, 6-2; and Archie McCallum, Cincinnati, beat Russell Grim, Columbus, 6-1, 4-6, 6-4.

EMPIRE STAKE ON
SYRACUSE, N. Y. — The $10,000 Empire State stake for 200 class trotters features Tuesday's Grand Circuit program at the New York state fair. Next in interest are the two Western horseman stakes, one of $4,500 for three year old trotters, and the other of $2,500 for three year old pacers. The 2:04 pace for a purse of $2,500 and the 2:10 pace, $800, found out what light horses race fans devotees regard as one of the best. . . The stakes and purses aggregate $20,000.

ORGANIZE ATHLETIC CLUB
The athletic directors and coaches of the Mercer high schools have organized the Mercer County Athletic Club for the promotion of all branches of athletics.

The officers are: Emil Bunker, athletic director of Rockford H. president; J. C. Muller, Colma H. baseball coach, secretary.

CINCINNATI — Black Gold, winner of four derbies and eligible for the Cincinnati Handicap feature race on the opening card at Latonia, Saturday, will not compete in that race, it was said today. The horse is in training at Latonia for the third international special race in which the French horse, Spindard, will run.

'Ray For Port Jervis!

Obscure Pennsylvania Hamlet Basks In Spotlight As Birthplace of Washington's Boss

STANLEY HARRIS

Maybe you never heard of Port Jervis, Pa. Neither did we. Until the other day, when some relentless historian disclosed the little Pennsylvania hamlet as the birthplace of Stanley Harris, sensational kid manager of the Washington Senators, likely winners of the American league championship.

Harris was born there 25 years ago. He has been with Washington since 1912. Buffalo had him the year before. Prior to that he was with Reading, Norfolk, Muskegon and Scranton.

Also he had brief trials with Detroit and Pittsburgh, getting his start with the Pirates in 1915. He's five feet nine inches tall, weighs 160, bats and throws right-handed and is one of the most popular men in baseball.

AS A MATTER OF FACT
Being a Criticism of the Past and the Present in the World of Professional and Amateur Sports
BY HAROLD CRADDOCK

Lima journeyed to Angola Sunday. After being knocked about from constant jarring of rough roads during the spell of a century run, they won from the Hoosier team by the short score of 4-1. Whopper of a game too. And it's an example of where harder hitters in the long run will win out.

It was an important game for Angola to lose; a game that set them off the high pinnacle of pennant hopes, for the time being. But Angola is a game bunch and already want it to become known that the set back they are fighting harder than ever. It has been hinted in these columns several times, that Westbay comes as near being the ace of the Ohio-Indiana league as any other pitcher in it, and again this particular game proves his ability. Angola collected a total of three hits, all told, and collected the first set. I feel what he can do, but more what he can do in the long run.

The local team was strengthened by the addition of Longdecker, who played his first game with Lima at short. He is an experienced player; was formerly with the Western league, and is now a resident of Columbus. He fielded his position in the first set. I feel what he can do, but more what he can do in the long run.

IN LIMA THEATRES

THEATRE DIRECTORY

At the Rialto
"His Forgotten Wife," written especially for the screen by Will Lambert, opened a four day stay at the Rialto Tuesday. The cast is headed by Madge Bellamy and Warner Baxter who have in their support Maude Wayne, Hazel Keener and Tom Guise.

Charming Madge Bellamy is always notably easy to look upon and in this picture she is given a chance to wear some really fascinating clothes. Maude Wayne, noted for her portrayal of "vamp" roles, gives an excellent performance and altho you can't exactly call her a vamp in this portrayal, she is the antagonist of the plot and uses her charms most effectively.

A comedy will precede "His Forgotten Wife."

Another Scandal!

Many admirers of Cosmo Hamilton's latest and greatest "Another Scandal!" who have been anxious to see the film at the Lyric theatre for the last three days.

Wilson has the starring of Beatrice Franklin and her writing cast includes Holmes as the husband, Ralph as Malcolm Fraser, Flora as the sister, and Ralph W. Chambers as the villain.

Madge Bellamy and a battle of wits between two women of different types, a devoted husband to the core by his loving scenes of unusual beauty, from the first to the last once all combine to make the picture an entertaining one.

"Another Scandal!" is heralded as a domestic drama, a love story, and a very interesting comedy. A comedy will be a prelude to the Lyric's am.

Mrs. Shama told authorities that never before, since she has owned the jewelry, has she left them at home. She was late and did not take the trouble to place the rings upon her hands, she said.

'Bobby's' Stumped—Daughter Will Shed Curls If He Goes Over Falls

LEACH AND HIS BOSS

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. — (Special) — It's beginning to look as if "Bobby" Leach is going to have to forego his trip over Niagara Falls in a rubber ball.

His 14-year-old daughter, Viola, is blocking his way.

She's going to have her hair bobbed if he does. And "Bobby" doesn't want that.

For Viola's lovely curls are her daddy's pride and joy. Tall, slender, olive-skinned, Viola, with her beautiful ringlets, looks all the world like an Indian maiden.

Months ago she fired off her curls. She wanted to have them cut off. She wanted to wear her hair bobbed like other girls her age.

But Daddy Leach wouldn't stand for it. It would break his heart, he told her, if she did.

Now, Viola is an obedient child. She wouldn't do anything her father forbade.

"Bobby's" plans, however, for his second jaunt over the rapids—(he made his first one in a steel barrel 13 years ago) brought rebellion.

"If you make the trip," she said, "I'll have my hair bobbed. But if you call it off, I'll not cut my curls."

So "Bobby" is stumped. He doesn't want his friends to call him "yellow." And he doesn't want his daughter to shed her curls.

Then, too, "Bobby" has been unable to get his rubber ball. He has been negotiating with three different rubber companies, but they are slow in responding.

"I can't see why," he sighs. "It would be a great advertisement for any concern furnishing me with the rubber ball."

"Bobby's" fame seems to be growing annually. Every year, more than 2,000,000 persons, it is estimated, visit his little cafe and pool room at Youngstown, N. Y., a quaint little town at the mouth of the tempestuous river.

The taxi drivers are reaping a harvest hauling tourists to his place. An unsophisticated "fare" always is urged to make the trip to "Bobby's."

"Only 12 miles away," the drivers will tell you. But the distance probably is extended considerably on the return trip.

Day and night, there's a fleet of cabs in front of "Bobby's." Business is always good in the little cafe.

And "Bobby" of late years has become quite prosperous. But he'll never be satisfied until he goes over the Falls again.

WHEAT CHANGES ARE SLIGHT

General Upturn in Early Trading Is Halted

MARKET IS UNSETTLED

Material Gains Scored in Corn Quotations

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press)—Frost in Canada, together with drought in Argentina and higher quotations at Liverpool, tended to bring about price upturns for wheat today during the early dealings here. Besides, crop and weather reports in France, Germany and Belgium attracted considerable notice. However, big deliveries today on September contracts were a weight on the market and soon wiped out nearly all the gains. Opening prices which varied from 1/2 to 1/4 higher with December 1/2 to 1/4 and May 1/2 to 1/4 were followed by a material sag from initial top figures.

Material Gains Scored in Corn Quotations

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press)—Frost in Canada, together with drought in Argentina and higher quotations at Liverpool, tended to bring about price upturns for wheat today during the early dealings here. Besides, crop and weather reports in France, Germany and Belgium attracted considerable notice. However, big deliveries today on September contracts were a weight on the market and soon wiped out nearly all the gains. Opening prices which varied from 1/2 to 1/4 higher with December 1/2 to 1/4 and May 1/2 to 1/4 were followed by a material sag from initial top figures.
